

Money Market Review

To recap, Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) lowered the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) by 25bps on 7 July, to a record low of 1.75% (year-to-date reduction of 125bps). In its policy statement, BNM highlighted that the reduction in OPR is intended to provide additional policy stimulus to accelerate the pace of economic recovery.

Meanwhile, the international reserves of BNM amounted to USD104.3 billion as at 14 August 2020. The reserves position is sufficient to finance 8.5 months of retained imports and is 1.1 times total short-term external debt.

Money Market Outlook

While BNM expects the domestic economy to gradually recover, the pace and strength of the recovery remain subject to downside risks emanating from both domestic and external factors. Meanwhile, average headline inflation is likely to be negative for the full year 2020, primarily reflecting substantially lower global crude oil prices.

Given muted inflationary pressures and continued uncertainties ahead, BNM is widely anticipated to remain accommodative to support domestic growth, with the central bank assuring that it would utilize its policy levers as appropriate to create enabling conditions for sustainable economic recovery.
